

K-LOVE serves as an upbeat encouraging station in a day-to-day world of negative news and saddening world events. Not to say that I stick my head in the sand and want to escape reality but having a high caliber, uplifting retreat during the stress of daily life is so vital to me and I'm sure I stand with thousands in that regard. I feel strongly about holding on to this anchor in my daily life and I can't imagine how important this must be to the listeners who live in rural areas where the signals they receive their stations on would be drastically affected if they were to lose access to the stations they are accustomed to listening to.

Stations as uplifting as K-Love serve a vital role in the community helping listeners keep a positive perspective in their stressful lives and depressing world events. The society in which we live is well served by stations that proclaim a positive message and encouraging uplifting music.

Please do not change the broadcast service to LPFM as this could seriously affect our listening needs.

Thank you.
